Yes, it is getting a little late and you had the best intentions of being better organised this year - but you still haven't got all your Christmas presents. So, we want to help you with some Christmas gift ideas for the Porsche enthusiast. And here's what we came up with:

Steve McQueen in Le Mans

A graphic novel of the movie is out and looks really exciting. Tribute edition, large size book, 64 pages, available in English, French, German and Italian.

Check out a preview here.

You can buy your copy from Garbo Studio UK at £28

Omologato Le Mans watch

Omologato watches is celebrating Le Mans with a pair of limited edition watches that are specially designed to pay tribute to the 24 hours of Le Mans: The Salzburg (917) and the Le Mans watch. According to Omologato each watch is hand assembled using a world-leading Chronograph movement, housed in British designed cases, with bespoke faces and straps. Their brand ambassador is Richard Attwood.

You can purchase the Salzburg (917) for £329 on the Omologato website.

Porsche 917 - the complete photographic history

The 900 photographs in this book tell the story, with supporting and heavily researched text containing relevant factory accounts of the Porsche 917's development, including interviews with engineers (Klaus Bischof, Jurgen Barth, Herbert Linge, Hans Mezger, Norbert Singer) and drivers (David Piper, Derek Bell, Jackie Oliver, Brian Redman, Richard Attwood). The book has been published by Haynes and signed copies are available from the author Glen Smale himself at a price of £80 (free p&p in UK)

Porsche calendar 2017 - Uncovered

The new Porsche 2017 calendar is another one of our favourites. You get to have a look into the mysterious secret Porsche garage. The calendar features 13 special images of some of Porsche's special cars. It is available from the Porsche Shop for £40. This includes an exclusive collector's coin and postcard set of the calendar motifs.

Porsche 906 participating in the Targa Florio. The race started in 1906 and takes place in the mountainous inland region of Sicily. Similarly to the Le Mans race, the streets temporarily are converted into a race track. Its legacy as a Sports Cars event ended in 1977 due to stricter safety requirements and instead the Italian Rally Championship events.
